BILLIE HOLIDAY: THE FIRST LADY OF JAZZ

Billie Holiday was one of the greatest jazz singers for decades starting in 1930. She had no formal training, but, with an instinctive sense of musical structure and a deep knowledge of jazz and blues, she developed a singing style that was deeply moving and individual.

BRIAN ENO: INDIE'S FAVORITE

Brian Eno is best known for his work in ambient music and contributions to rock, pop and electronic. Though maybe not a household name, Eno has an extensive creative catalogue where he's produced for U2 and David Bowie.
