FAQS

- Can I book an event room if my group has 12 people?

Currently, our event rooms only allow for up to 10 guests per booking; however, if you would like to book two separate event rooms with 6 participants each, that is possible. It will cost the amount of booking two event rooms, which would be $210 per event room.

- Can I book an event room if only my partner and I are going?

Our event rooms are not fully enjoyable with fewer than 6 participants. If you would like to experience an event room, but you do not have enough guests, we do allow multiple small groups to join in one bigger group. You would be participating in the event room with other guests. The price is cheaper; we split the total cost of the event room per amount of guests with each small group. For instance, if 5 couples make a group of 10 for an event room, each couple would pay $50, which would equal $250 total for the room.

- Will I get my security deposit back?

As long as guests do not leave a huge mess or damage any of the WhoDunIt? property, they will receive their security deposit within 24 hours of visiting a WhoDunIt? event room.

- Is food included in the pricing?

Yes, food is included in the pricing. A drink, one appetizer ,and one entree is included for each guest in the group pricing; however, if guests would like dessert, each dessert costs $5 extra per person.

- Does everyone have to eat the same thing?

No. Each person is allowed to choose what food they would like from our WhoDunIt? menu. If all guests want the same food item, each person will receive a serving of the same item as everyone else, but if guests have different food preferences, that is acceptable as long as they pick from the WnoDunIt? food menu.
